Blue Label Stencils are hand cut by competent Artists in a paper manufactured specially for our business. This paper is properly oiled with Pure Linseed Oil, treated by a process that, while it does not retard its drying qualities, preserves it from becoming brittle, thus rendering the stencils very durable. In fact, our Blue Label Oiled Stencil Paper can be carried in stock for many years without undergoing any noticeable change, except that it will gradually become somewhat darker in color.

It is a recognized fact Among sign painters, that cloth or canvas, unless previously sized with Glue or other sizing, is, on account of its rough and absorbent qualities, a very difficult surface upon which to write lettering, with ordinary lettering brushes, that will show a clean, distinct outline. This sizing process is not practical where Awnings are concerned, for the reason that the surface of a new awning must not be discolored, or it would prove unacceptable to the purchaser. It would then be rendered brittle when dry and would be liable to crack when folded.

With Blue Label Awning Makers' Stencils any person possessed of ordinary ability, with a reasonable amount of practice, can execute Signs or Decorations on awnings that will compare favorably with the handwork of accomplished Sign Writers.

It goes without saying that probably ninety-nine per cent of the merchants who install awnings would prefer to have their name appear thereon, and a very large percentage of them expect a reasonable amount of this lettering to be included in the contract.

The execution of this lettering by the use of stencils is not a new idea, for if you send this work to a progressive Sign Painter the chances are ten to one that he will use stencils, knowing that by this process he can finish the job in much less time and do cleaner work.

We have been marketing Stencils among the Painters' Supply trade through Jobbing Houses, continuously since the year 1893, the trade name "BLUE LABEL STENCILS" is very generally known among House and Sign Painters and is rapidly becoming known among Awning Makers.
